SPORTS EDUCATION AND SKILL ENHANCEMENT.

Since 1975, US Sports Camps has connected the world's most experienced and talented coaches to millions of young athletes from around the world. Our extensive network of camps, sponsored by Nike, offer high quality training that inspires young athletes to work hard, have fun and aspire to reach their full potential.

TRAIN

Train with the best. Our camps offer young athletes state-of-the-art training from top coaches culled from Division I college programs and top youth programs from around the globe. Passionate about what they do, our coaches inspire kids to work to their best level, whether they are pursuing competitive college play, or just trying to get better at the sports they love.

Skilled with the ability to seize teachable moments that build positive character traits, our coaches make excellent role models for young athletes. By rewarding effort regardless of the outcome, and providing ongoing and constructive feedback, athletic coaches work to enhance a player's self esteem while striving to improve.

With a low camper-to-instructor ratio, each of our of university and prep school camp locations offer best-in-class athletic, residential and dining facilities to help create an atmosphere where success is the rule rather than the exception.

Master your sport. With 18 different collegiate sports to choose from, including tennis, basketball, soccer, volleyball, swim and golf, Nike Sports Camps provide a chance for young athletes to become the best they can be in the sport they love.

Offering 20-25 hours of sport instruction per week, our tailored coaching focuses on both the fundamentals of the game as well as position specific drills to enhance personal skills and knowledge.

Kids are trained in both small and larger groups to bolster training and improve competition while they master the mental, physical and technical skills of the game.

We recognize every child has a different level of great, and help each camper strive to reach their own level of success, as they enhance their love of game, improve skills and have fun playing and getting to know other young athletes from around the world.

MASTER

Challenge yourself to be a better “you.”

Campers who participate in our multi-week programs can opt to take daily ELS language classes and improve their communication skills alongside kids from around the world.

Step out of your normal routine and cross over cultural and language barriers to meet new kids from other countries, who will broaden your life experiences and expand your ability to make new types of friends.

Multi-week campers will also have the opportunity to go on fun, local outings and excursions, and forge friendships in a multi-cultural atmosphere of camaraderie, discovery and growth.

CHALLENGE

Explore world-class U.S. destinations.

Our multi-week camp programs – specifically designed for international campers – are offered in the most desirable regions in the country, near international airports on both the east and west coasts.

Choose from a list of locations to find the most suitable program for your camper. Whether you pick Southern California for sunny beaches, Stanford University for its proximity in the heart of Silicon Valley, or the East Coast with easy access to the cultural meccas of Boston and New York, each camp location has something unique to offer.

Campers staying for two weeks or more will experience supervised weekend activities alongside diverse young athletes from around the world.
